The “National Corporation of Transportation Terminals” from Bogotá, Colombia, mostly recognized as CONALTER, is an entity that meets the operators of transport terminals in the region.

On the occasion of their annual meetings, where, among other activities, is held their General Assembly, appointing authorities, CONALTER took the initiative to share this space to perform their annual conference and also opened a parallel forum for addressing issues related to the transport market, known PTT – Public Transport Technologies y RTA – Rail Transport Technology Andina.

In the context of PTT PUBLIC TRANSPORT TECHNOLOGIES 2010 e RAIL TRANSPORT TECHNOLOGIES ANDINA 2010, happened the 7th International Seminar on Transport Planning where experts and recognized national and international speakers informed the audience about the latest developments in the area, control and logistics fleets, etc, contributing with interested topics for experienced professionals and to specific sectors dedicated to research and solutions development.

Vossloh South America has been introduced actively in the context of these three events which, in its capacity as Sponsor, has participated as an exhibitor at the parallel exhibition and also made presentations in the main conferences rooms where we caught the attention of a large and exclusive audience. The conferences were presented: Solutions of high cost-efficiency issues in infrastructure and new technologies in transport.

This event definitely made possible the introduction of our Sales Regional in this sector, when public and private personalities might be in direct contact with our business unit at a local level, creating, in a strategic way, a knowledge and awareness of our new representative for the market of the Andean region.
